The committee reviewed the standard build for the computer classrooms and the BC computer lab and noted whether software would not change, be upgraded, or be removed.

In addition, Paul provided information about some hardware upgrades to be done this summer.