Develop skills in problem identification, evaluation and decision making problem situations. Develop frameworks for the analysis of human performance in organizations, including personality, learning styles, motivation, interpersonal interaction, communication, group processes and leadership, organizational processes and structures and management practices to improve human performance, satisfaction and productivity.

This is a fully online course. All course materials are available in BlackBoard and your assigned Textbook. To start the course, review the Course Content. There is a Learning Module created for each week.

Text: Human Relations Interpersonal Job-Oriented Skills, Andrew J. DuBrin. In addition, supplemental information is available for download from the publisher’s web site and the class Blackboard site.

Please Note: All lecture and test dates are tentative and may be changed with regard to the needs of the class. I will let you know via an announcement AND e-mail in Blackboard if there are any changes. You should check blackboard at least every other day.

CLASS SCHEDULE

See Excel Schedule posted in Blackboard
Assignments:

1. Discussion Questions: Each week there is a discussion questions that allows you to examine your level of understanding, apply the concepts learned and evaluate and make decisions with ‘real world’ examples. You will post your answer/reply to the discussion question by Wednesday of each week and then reply to at least two of your classmates before the week closes on Sunday at 11:59 PM. Late submission of your answer will result in a deduction of 2 points. (Exception: Week 1 starts on Wednesday, October 13. Your submission is due by Saturday and responses to classmates due by Sunday). 150 Points

2. Homework: Students will be responsible for four (4) of the five (5) assigned Cases and questions set forth on the Readings and Assignments sheet. Assignments are also noted in the assignments area and linked to each learning module in Blackboard. Homework should be submitted in the assignment page in Blackboard either by posting a header, your name and your response in the ‘Submission’ pane (preferred method) OR as a MS Word document attachment in blackboard assignments. Assignments are available for submission any time up to the noted due date and are not accepted late. Any changes to the assigned homework will be announced in advance via an announcement and e-mail in Blackboard; and accordingly, you will be responsible for completing (make a note to check the classroom a few times each week). Homework is due by Sunday at 11:59 PM on the assigned week. Failure to submit homework problems may have an adverse impact on your final grade. There are five (5) Cases assignments listed on the syllabus and your top 4 scores will be counted in the calculation of your final grade. Keep in mind that you need to thoroughly answer the question and will be graded for effort, writing, grammar, clarity and completeness. 400 points

2. Quizzes: There are fifteen (15) weekly quizzes during the course. These quizzes will be over the chapters assigned that week. Each quiz has 10-15 True False questions directly from the textbook. You may use your book and you have 1 hour to complete the quiz. (DO NOT START THE QUIZ UNTIL YOU ARE READY AS THERE IS ONLY 1 CHANCE). Quizzes are available for two weeks prior to the due date and must be completed by 11:59 PM on Sunday. There will be NO make-up quizzes. 450 points

4. Final Exam: During finals week a final exam will be available in the assessments area of our Blackboard classroom. The final will be Multiple Choice and True False questions from the text and will take about 2 hours. The final exam must be completed by Friday night, May 6 by 11:59PM 100 Points

Attendance Policy: Participation in the class is the responsibility of the student. Approved absences excuse you from attending class, but do not waive or alter your responsibility to submit work on time. ALL assignments, discussions and tests are available for one week or longer. Plan ahead and do not wait until the last minute as no additional time will be given even for unexpected/unintentional barriers (ie, car accidents, computer crash, sickness, etc).

Late Assignments Policy: Homework, Quizzes and the Case assignments will not be accepted late. Initial response to the discussion questions can be made late provided they are submitted before the end of the assigned week, however you will immediately loose two points. Points are not given for responses to classmates posted after 11:59 on Sunday. Keep in mind that early posts in the discussion thread will increase your opportunities for discussion with your classmates.

ADA Statement: If you have or think you may have a disability that interferes with your academic progress, you may wish to self-identify by contacting the Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) Office located in Garcia Annex to register. If you have already registered, please make sure your instructor receives a copy of the accommodation memorandum form SSD within the first two weeks of classes. It will be your responsibility to inform either your instructor of SSD representative (in a timely manner) if the services/accommodations provided are not meeting your needs.

If you have a condition that may affect your ability to exit safely from the premises in an emergency or that may cause an emergency during class, you are encouraged to discuss any concerns with the Instructor or with the SSD Coordinator.
Academic Misconduct: Individual(s) involved in academic misconduct will be dismissed from the class.

Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to

1. Cheating or knowingly assisting another student in committing an act of cheating or other forms of academic dishonesty;

2. Plagiarism, which includes, but is not necessarily limited to, submitting examinations, themes, reports, drawings, laboratory notes, undocumented quotations, computer-processed materials, or other material as one’s own work when such work has been prepared by another person or copied from another person or resource without proper references.

3. Unauthorized changing of grades on an examination, in an instructor’s grade book, or on a grade report; or for, academic computer records.

4. Nondisclosure of misrepresentation in filling out applications or other University records in, or for, academic departments or colleges.
